INNOVATION & STARTUP EXPERIENCE

HerblocX Co-Founder & Chief Technology Officer	2025 – Present

A blockchain-based B2B/B2C marketplace for the export and import of Indonesian herbal commodities, designed to guarantee data transparency, transaction security, and product traceability. The innovation has been entered in three international and national competitions.

- Designed the platform's conceptual architecture combining Web2 and Web3 on Layer-2 infrastructure, covering real-time commodity tracking, anti-fraud document verification, and an AI-based purchasing assistant
- Developed the platform's legal and compliance framework, including a trademark protection strategy through DJKI (Indonesian Directorate General of Intellectual Property) and mapping of international export standards (EUDR, FDA, and JAS)
- Designed a dual-persona interface flow for suppliers with limited digital literacy and for international buyers, ensuring technical terminology does not become a barrier to adoption
- Wrote the English-language business plan and pitch materials presented before cross-national panels of judges at three international and national events
